Opening

Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen.

Welcome to "DREAMINGS" the Haute Voltige Air Musical.

This programme is dedicated to all lovers and to all those for whom an aircraft is a creative idea, an art in motion, a mechanical poet or the soul of their desire...

i. The Dolphin Family

Blue note...

A zone without gravity...

Driven by the energy of the sea...

Inspired by dreams and freedom, we are the Dolphins!

ii. The Shark Family

Patrolling the ocean depths, dark blue, blackened with blood...

Predators, taking advantage of all situations...

We are fighters, the tigers of the deep...

We are the Sharks!

iii. The Dream

Mandurah enjoyed playing acrobatics with the birds.

Through the water he would imitate their manoeuvres.

He was a genuine artist, a real champion...

But, he was still under the water, and the birds were still above, behind the mirror...

To defy gravity... to fly with the birds, to reach the stars...

That was the dream of Mandurah the Dolphin.

iv. The Storm

One day, whilst playing with the birds he got caught in a violent tempest. Turbulent waters and strong currents swept him away from his feathered friends.

Losing his strength, constantly battered by giant waves, Mandurah drifted into unconsciousness...

The energy of the sea took him to his destiny...

v. Falling in love

Drifting, drifting away... the distant song of a siren guided him to the surface of a lagoon. Opening his eyes, he saw the most beautiful mermaid, her eyes brimming with love... Hello Mandurah, my name is Sirena. Do you want to come and play That's how their love started...

vi. The Show

Leaving the lagoon, our lovers travelled across the seas and oceans of the planet... Whenever Sirena sang and Mandurah performed his acrobatic dances, all the sea creatures came to watch. Even Prince Shark... Exit calm waters... Enter uncertain times. Two famous lovers in search of their destiny...

vii. Jealousy

Prince Shark had always loved Sirena... but she had rejected his love, and now she has given her heart to a mere dolphin! Consumed with rage and jealousy he plots the demise of Mandurah. It's time for Prince Shark and his Generals to go dolphin hunting...

viii. The Fight

Ambushed, Mandurah and Sirena find themselves surrounded by sharks... With a brave heart Mandurah rams them with his snout. Over and over he charges, but he is no match for this army... Stand aside! Commands Prince Shark... the pleasure of the kill is mine!

Slowly, he circles Mandurah... Jaws open, razor-sharp teeth exposed, he attacks... But in a split of a second Sirena throws herself into his path, shielding Mandurah with her love... And when his jaws crushed down on her, Sirena exploded into a million stars... A star constellation, illuminating the oceans as she gradually rose out of the water, into the universe...

ix. Sorrow

Shocked, Prince Shark and his Generals quietly retreat, leaving Mandurah staring in disbelief at the stars dancing around him... No! He cried... This cannot be happening! Unable to move, Mandurah could be found at the same spot long after the stars had disappeared... Hours became days... Days became weeks... He was lost in a time warp of sorrow...

x. Reach the dream

This is not your destiny, said the birds... You are meant to be with Sirena... Don't you need to feel her close to you? Driven by the desire to be with Sirena, Mandurah gathered all his strength and leapt out of the water... Willing himself to defy gravity, he broke through the mirror and entered his dream... To reach the stars...

Closing

All the sea creatures celebrate this second miracle.... And, soon the news was spread far and wide... Believe in yourself... Reach for your dreams, aim high... Everything is possible!

So, ladies and gentlemen, may those of you who are here today spread the good news that the dream is real and that you have seen it flying here at Twin Ring Motegi. Thank you!
